Hardware & Software Sales

Networking

We're focused on providing networking solutions that optimize the connectivity and communications across an enterprise. Our philosophy is simple: to offer our customers secure, reliable, and fast networks that get the job done. Behind the scenes, our experienced network engineers are busy designing customized networks, staying up to date with industry news and maintaining existing, dependable systems. We engage in partnerships with several industry-leading network hardware and software providers. Trust AMI for your networking needs.

Business Continuance

The need for business continuance has become a reality for most companies. Our clients have come to us with a need for reliable data backup and high availability. In the meantime, government regulations have mandated certain levels of data backup and restoration. Our skilled technicians have listened to our clients needs and have designed various schemas for providing reliable business continuance. Contact us today for a better description of how AMI can design your data backup and recovery solution.

IP Telephony

Looking to boost your end-users experience and your productivity at the same time? Try IP Telephony. AMI clients using IP Telephony include small businesses as well as large organizations. In its most basic form the technology allows you to bridge the divide between voice and data. Envision receiving and tracking phone calls on your desktop computer...A small popup on the corner of your screen displaying an incoming call... Point..Click..Answer..Record. IP Telephony is in use at our offices...now let us bring the technology to you.

PC Desktops & Servers

AMI helps clients looking to create or expand their fleet of desktops, laptops, and/or servers. We've setup entire offices from the ground up and are ready to offer our networking, data backup, and power & cooling services. We maintain partnerships with several industry-leading computing providers to present our clients with a diverse suite of options to fulfill their diverse needs. With AMI you satisfy the needs of today and prepare your company for the needs of tomorrow.

Software

We are an authorized reseller of office and professional software. Need custom applications? We provide those as well. Our experienced programmers can not only create your software but can also make it available on the web so you can use it from anywhere in the world. Let Applied Microsystems bring your company to new heights with our trusted software partners and knowledgeable support staff.

Power & Cooling

Our goal is provide better energy efficiency, increase data center uptime and allow data centers to operate at higher power densities so users can get the most out of their IT investments. Reducing the power demands has an added bonus: Generating less power means consuming fewer natural resources and promoting a cleaner environment.

Scanning

We are authorized resellers of high-end scanners. These machines are designed for large volume document management processing and high-resolution image scanning. We also offer document management solutions. AMI is your one-stop shop for your document management/scanning needs.
